REVIEW OF ARTISTIC EDUCATION

Publication ethics and publication malpractice statement

Review of Artistic Education’ editors share the international scientific community’s preoccupation in maintaining high standards regarding the quality of research texts. For this reason, all the aspects concerning the publishing ethics, including the cases of duplicate submission and plagiarism are taken very seriously by Review of Artistic Education’s editors.

Our journal’s reviewers are alert to intellectual property issues and work with the publishers to handle potential breaches of intellectual property laws and conventions. The double-blind peer-review system that Review of Artistic Education uses allows reviewers to detect falsified data and to react according to Romanian intellectual property law no. 8 / 1998. In the case of duplicate submission and plagiarism, our journal editors take the liberty of rejecting the submitted article.
